Institute for Community Prosperity

The Institute for Community Prosperity connects learning, research and change leadership to build community and strengthen the common good. The Institute emerged from the former Institute for Nonprofit Studies, which served for 13 years as Canada's only university-based institute focused on research into Canada's nonprofit sector.

The Institute recognizes that community prosperity requires the contribution of ideas and solutions; and the engagement of many entities. We are excited about those organizations and organized groups of citizens working to address underlying conditions rather than simply addressing symptoms. This includes roles in developing public policy and transforming systems collectively rather than operating in incremental isolation.

The Institute's commitment is "to ensure that students and citizens have access to learning opportunities and research that will help them lead transformative change in their communities. Three core values inform our work – empathy, creativity and courage. These values translate into three learning themes that define our focus: philanthropy, social innovation and transformative leadership."

For more information on the Institute, check out www.mtroyal.ca/communityprosperity.

BBA Terminology

The BBA is made up of:

- 16 core courses (that all BBA students must take)
- 10 major courses (dependent on the major/concentration you choose)
- 10 General Education courses (the breadth of your degree)
- 4 elective courses (courses of your choice, but could include BBA minor or Honours coursework, exploratory coursework to help you choose your major, further coursework in your intended field, international exchange courses, and field trip opportunities)

What are...

Pre-requisites - courses that must successfully be completed PRIOR to taking a higher-level course (i.e. ACCT 2121 is a pre-requisite for ACCT 3224).

Co-requisites - courses that can be taken concurrently with other coursework (i.e. LSCM 3403 is a pre or co-requisite for MGMT 5333).

Recommended preparation - where having prior coursework in the subject may prove beneficial to students, but is not required for higher-level courses.

Advice from your Advisors

- Consider a balanced approach when picking your courses
 - * Take core, major, general education and elective courses each semester.
 - * Consider your personal strengths and weaknesses when picking courses to achieve a reasonable courseload and workload.
 - * Keep in mind your commitments outside of the classroom (work, student clubs, volunteering, etc.) when determining your schedule of courses.
- Communicate any difficulties that you are having with your professor - the earlier you identify any issues, the earlier you can address them!
- If you aren't sure what to major in, use your electives to explore areas of interest - the earlier you do this, the earlier you can declare your major and plan the rest of your degree.
- The majority of core BBA courses are offered in the Fall, Winter and Spring semesters - but major specific courses may only be offered once per year or only in the Fall and Winter. Consult with your Advisor if you have questions.
