Ayden Osvath,
Student Fellow

Our trio is focused on how social service workers can grow and be retained in the sector. Grounded in empathy, we seek a better understanding of the interconnected systems and how to support a thriving ecosystem. We are working towards tangible deliverables which will help staff and leaders tackle this complex challenge.

Who are Trellis

Trellis is a charitable non-profit that works with young people, adults, families and communities to unearth their potential and support their growth.

Trellis is focused on making generational impact by strengthening economic stability, well-being, mental health and belonging so people can flourish.

Trellis' work spans five areas:

Housing supports and shelter Child and youth programming Parenting supports Culture and community
Therapy and wellness

Vision

A Community
Where Everyone
Can Flourish

Mission

Support Growth Across Generations

Empathy

Relentlessly care about the growth of others and won't let anyone go unsupported

Courage

Willingly embrace growth and don't see it as optional

Values

Impact

Go beyond what seems doable
and prove growth is possible

Learning

Choose to grow even when the status quo feels easier

What Does Trellis Want to Change?

Hardship, loss and trauma are unavoidable in life. Trellis helps by equipping and empowering those they serve to have the foundation and the capacity to cope and overcome when difficulties in life arise.

So that...

young people, families and communities can flourish and reach their full potential across generations.
